

TECHNICAL PRESENTATIONS

We understand the importance of 'Continued Professional Development' and more importantly the lack of time available for professionals to maintain their knowledge of innovative products and solutions.

Our philosophy is to offer busy professionals the opportunity to discover the advantages of the Platipus Ground Anchoring System through comprehensive technical presentations, at a time and location convenient to you. This may take the form of a focussed 1 to 1 introduction to our products or more formal presentation to a larger group.

If you would like to receive a technical presentation covering any of the Platipus Ground Anchoring Systems please submit your request using our enquiry form.
